RS2		SALES Volumes	1,674 -	1,696	+1.3% -8.9%
RS3		SALES Volumes	1,553 -	1,808	+16.4% -3.7%

- RS1: growth driven by responsive pricing management over 2022 and early 2023 to offset inflation, and a sustained product mix enhancement, both in OE and RT. 18"+ tires accounted for 58% of MICHELIN-branded tire sales, up 5 points vs. Q1 2022.
- RS2: sales increase fueled by 2022 and early 2023 assertive pricing management to offset inflation, and a buoyant OE demand. Focus on the highest value-creative segments and expansion in fleet management solutions.
- RS3: strong growth led by dynamic Mining sales and the aggregate impact of 2022 prices increases.

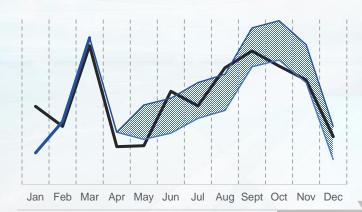

2023 markets scenario: on the lower side of ranges

OE: stable demand overall, slight growth in North America offsetting decrease in China, Europe stable

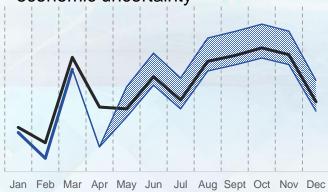

RT: slight reduction in global demand, driven by 17"- decrease mainly Europe and South America

OE: demand remains robust, from already high comparatives

RT: sell-in demand to soften on high comparisons, with destocking actions foreseen at least in Q2 in a context of economic uncertainty

Wear particles: considerable competitive advantage, without any compromise on safety

PARTICLE EMISSIONS: MICHELIN VS. OTHER PREMIUM TIREMAKERS (1)

The environmental impact of tire abrasion is up to 50% higher for other manufacturers than for Michelin, whose tire technology currently gives them an enormous lead over the competition.

Tire and road wear particles (TRWP): definition and state of knowledge

SCIENTIFIC STUDIES HAVE STARTED TO MEASURE THE ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT OF TRWP (1):

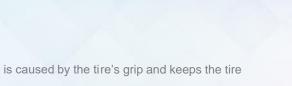

Studies confirm that TRWP account for only a very small proportion (<1%) of particulate matter pollution

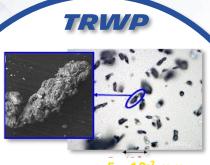

Studies suggest that most TRWP never reach estuaries.

Michelin is strongly in favor of a regulation that would limit the level of wear particle emissions of all tires worldwide → work in progress with ETRMA⁽²⁾ members in order to :

- define a standardized TRWP emission rate test method
- promote a threshold regulation and eliminate the less performing tires from the market.
- (1) TRWP are tiny debris generated by abrasion from a tire's contact with the road surface. This abrasion is caused by the tire's grip and keeps the tire safely on the road. For more information about TRWP, see the following document

MICHELIN'S ANSWER

See p. 175 of 2022 Universal Registration Document for more details

As part of the Supervisory Board's role of exercising permanent oversight of the Group's management, the CSR Committee began to review the climate strategy and issue recommendations.

In 2021, an initial internal audit of systemic physical risks was performed and the first pilot study of the vulnerability of certain Group operations was completed.

Four climate scenarios comprising narrative descriptions and quantitative socio-economic and physical assumptions were updated, deepened and deployed for use at two levels:

- by the business lines, regional organizations, operating units, corporate departments and other units as part of strategic thinking and ideation exercises.
- by the Group Executive Committee, to compare them to Group strategy and analyze their resilience about climate change and other indirect risks arising from the environmental transition.

Joining the "Race to Zero" campaign, answering the call to action led by the Science Based Targets initiative (SBTi), the United Nations Global Compact and We Mean Business, by committing to reach net zero emissions by 2050.

Detailed information concerning the application of TCFD recommendations may be found in the public answers to the CDP Climate Change 2022 questionnaire (see https://www.cdp.net/en/responses).

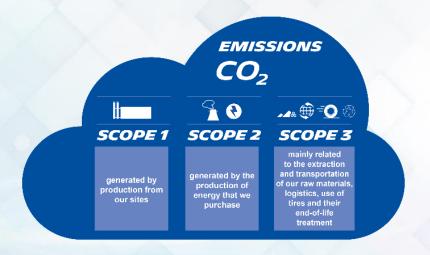

Climate strategy structured around transition and adaptation plans, towards Net-Zero emissions by 2050

STRUCTURED AROUND 2 AXES:

- A TRANSITION plan including initiatives to decarbonize direct and indirect activities in the value chain (Scopes 1, 2 & 3) and a strategic plan to support a low-carbon economy
- An ADAPTATION plan responding to physical impacts of climate change

BASED ON 3 PRINCIPLES:

- Achieve net-zero emissions by 2050
 by fulfilling our external emission reduction commitments by 2030,
- Identify risks and opportunities based on climate change scenarios,
- Transparently disclose information to our external stakeholders.
